Dear Parent

In today's age of computer children have gained mastery over technology and can easily pick up the nuances of new gadgets and apps.

However the use of internet without safety awareness makes them liable to fall prey to illegal activities and abuse such as cyber bullying, fraud and at times create life threatening situations. As parents and teachers we often face cyber challenges and one such is the Blue Whale Challenge. This life threatening game instigates the child to complete a set of tasks wherein the final challenge puts the child's life at a risk. Please keep a close watch on the children.

- Restrict the use of all mobile devices.
- Do not allow free access of internet on any digital device.
- Limit the use of computers, TV, gaming systems and smart phones.
- Keep a check on the downloading being done through your mobile-data and wi-fi devices.
- Change your privacy settings to the strict levels. This not only protects the users but also the computer from the threat of viruses.
- Facebook accounts are not permitted below the age of 13, discourage your children to use such social networking platforms.
- Be aware of all online activities of your child.
- Have informative discussions regarding Cyber Safety.
- Be vigilant about unusual behaviour of the child.
- Use social media wisely.
- It is every parent's responsibility to know exactly which key features are included in the gadgets our children are using.

Let us come together to keep our children safe and protect their identities both online and offline.
